What’s Your Ability?

1. It’s a sweltering hot summer day. You think:
   a. It’s hot? I didn’t notice.
   b. I wish the guy next to me would stop worrying about his sunscreen.
   c. It’s a nice day for a campfire.
   d. You need to get into air conditioning— asap.

2. You’re stuck in the middle of a blizzard. Your first response?
   a. Make more snowballs!
   b. Enjoy the peace and quiet of the outside.
   c. Find a much easier way to shovel the driveway.
   d. Snow day!

3. Your ideal dinner?
   a. Ice cream. For dinner…and dessert.
   b. Try to find out what your crush wants…and have that.
   c. Fondue and s’mores.
   d. Pizza in front of the TV.

4. What’s your favorite class at school?
   a. History. Especially the Cold War.
   b. Psychology. Someone needs to know what everyone’s thinking.
   c. I don’t like class – just fire drills and recess.
   d. Whichever one has the best teacher.

FROSTER!
Who doesn’t love a snow day? As a froster, you can freeze things by manipulating the ice particles in the air. Maybe it doesn’t sound glamorous, but there’s something pretty cool about knowing something coming your way could become frozen in time—literally.

PYROKINETIC!
Wow. It’s getting hot in here. And it’s you. While you can create fire, keep one very important fact in mind…once fire is created, no one can control it.

HUMAN!
Don’t despair, not all of us have a secret ability – that doesn’t mean you aren’t special…although it does mean your application to Firefox is going to be denied.
